

Gone surfing!

Make the most of what's available on the internet with a selection of our favourite websites

BY BEATRICE HODGKIN

Bustier, £86; briefs, £65; both Stella McCartney

China egg box, £15

begolden.co.uk

Sometimes only gold will do... and so to this slightly bonkers store which gathers together all things golden. It's rather a mixed bag, but some wonderful gems lurk in the wings, like the gilded espresso cups, messenger bag and egg box.

the-attic.co.uk

We love the cast-iron letter holders, retro lobby phones and French café-themed kitchenware from one of the Lake District's finest vintage-inspired shops.

Sugar, tea and coffee tins, from £3.95 each

tinc.uk.com

This new stationery brand features colourful office accessories like staplers and highlighters plus quirky additions such as bendy pencils. Our favourite product is a gadget which acts as a smartphone stand as well as a headphone splitter (so you and a friend can listen at the same time).

Headphone splitter, £9; bendy pencil, £1

thelittlestylebook.com

Style doesn't stop when you're pregnant or a new mother. Click here for a hub that keeps you in the loop with ideas for a new walk of life covering shopping, travel, baby-friendly activities and places, and topical features. Great for presents too.

kettlewellcolours.co.uk

How can we resist a shop whose motto is 'live life in colour'?

You'll find a kaleidoscopic array of useful basics here. How about trying this season's de rigueur maxi skirt in a ripe plum or uplifting poppy?

Viscose skirt, £49

foxandrose.com

Indulge either your sultry vamp or your sweet English rose at this online lingerie shop. Designs by Stella McCartney, Fleur of England and Princesse Tam Tam mean there's a tempting selection, from 1950s high-waisted pants to pretty floral bras and sexy French knickers.

beachtomato.com

The beach culture, fashion and beauty arm of luxury travel site Black Tomato is sizzling as the summer crescendos. Its 48-hour suitcase fashion guides, beach hotlists, and 'tan commandments' are great. Indulgence for jet setters and desk tourists alike.

virtualfestivals.com

The go-to place for music festival info over the summer – both at home and abroad. Sign up for their email alerts and check in for news, tips, info and news as it breaks, or see who might be playing where you are off to on your holidays. ■